Dear Sir/Madam:

I am Treasurer of a union political action committee based in Washington, D.C. and registered with California campaign finance authorities. It is my understanding from a brief news item in the Washington Post that California voters recently approved new restrictions on campaign contributions. I understand also that there may be some confusion in determining the regulations to implement these restrictions because there are two separate and in some cases conflicting initiatives involved. While I understand final rules may not have been promulgated, I would appreciate receiving any information you may have such as copies of the initiatives themselves, fact sheets, draft regulations whatever. Sketchy information is better than none which is what I presently have.

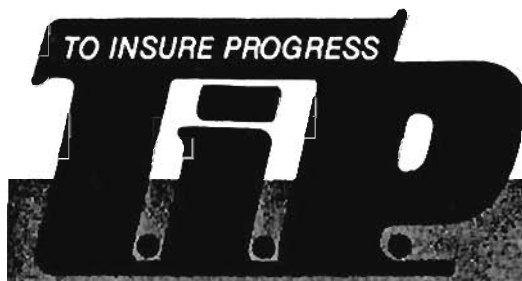

It is also my understanding based on conversations with your staff last year, that you routinely update your information manual each year but that copies are not automatically sent to filing committees unless requested. Please consider this letter such a request. I am particularly concerned with receiving a list of 1989 reporting dates.

Thank you for your assistance.

Cordially,
